MEMORANDUM

March 15, 1983

TO: Reid Supply Co., RCRA File
Wichita, Kansas

FROM: John Paul Goetz JP

SUBJECT: February 24, 1983 meeting to discuss RCRA Part B Permit Application

Karen Flournoy with EPA and myself met with Mr. David Trombold to discuss submittal of their RCRA Part B Permit Application. The conclusions that were reached at this meeting are the following:

1. They could submit a waste analysis plan which included a two tier approach to waste analysis. This scheme would involve complete waste analyses for those generators exceeding 1000 kilograms per month and a set of reduced requirements for those with generation rates less than this.
2. I indicated that hazardous waste storage tanks require diking. This diking could be constructed of either concrete or an artificial membrane liner. In no instance would we allow compacted clay to suffice for tank dikage. This requirement would be a KDHE requirement since 40 CFR Part 264 does not require dikes for hazardous waste storage tanks.
3. One question remained unanswered. Do intermediate storage tanks used for storing and processing waste prior to the distillation unit require a RCRA permit? Karen indicated that she would call back and advise them later.

Karen later informed me by telephone that these tanks do require a RCRA permit and she would advise Reid Supply Co. of this determination.
